UNITED STATES IS "BACK IN EUROPE" AS CONSEQUENCE OF PARIS CONFAB

London, Jan. 15.—Among the main causes for satisfaction expressed by the London editorial writers over the speedy and successful ending of the inter-allied conference in Paris is that it has resulted in making the United States one of the guarantors of the Dawes reparations scheme.

ALLIES SIGN AGREEMENT IN PARIS

Paris, Jan. 15.—All the powers in the inter-allied financial conference today signed the "agreement regarding distribution of the Dawes annuities," as the document embodying the results of the finance ministers' labors is entitled.

Limitation of the United States damage claims to $350,000,000 was stricken out. This was the only change made in the text of the agreement before its signature.

The Rumanians announced that they were making reservations with a view to demanding an increased percentage of reparations, while the Italians objected to the ruling on Italy's repayment of the excess she has received in reparations over the percentage to which she is entitled.

These reservations, however, did not prevent unanimous signature of the agreement and the objection of the two countries will be considered by the allies later.

Signature of the financial conventions brings to a fitting close what has been by common consent accepted as the most successful inter-allied meeting since the armistice.

This result is attributed to the example set at the beginning of the conference by the British chancellor of the exchequer, Winston Churchill, an example of moderation, good will and determination to effect a settlement.

Everybody seems satisfied that order has been evolved from chaos at the expense of the least possible sacrifice to each of the participating nations.

The convention is a carefully drawn document in French and English, and contains 27 clauses divided into five chapters.

The first chapter consists of clauses dealing with apportionment of the annual Dawes payments, the second with the Ruhr and other accounts, and the third with special questions growing out of a plan of the previous agreement.

U. S. Army Costs

The Wadsworth agreement for the payment of the United States army costs in this ratio for the coming two years, while after 1926 Belgium, having received her priority payments in full, the reduction of her percentage from 8 per cent. to 4 per cent. will provide the sum necessary to meet the United States claims.

According to figures presented by the experts, the Ruhr occupation would up with a clear profit of about 800,000,000 marks, which is divided among the allies on the same basis as the regular reparation payments.

The result of the conference seems to have satisfied nearly everyone with the exception of some of the smaller powers, Rumania in particular being disappointed over the failure of her efforts to obtain a larger percentage of the receipts. Future development of the Dawes plan, however, may furnish the means of satisfying the Rumanians and the other minor powers.

It was pointed out, after France and Great Britain are compensated for the temporary sacrifices they are now making.

NEW CHANCELLOR OF GERMAN PROMISES FULFILLMENT PLEDGES

Berlin, Jan. 19.—Loyal fulfillment by Germany of the London agreement on the Dawes plan and strict enforcement of the laws dictated by it are among the pledges contained in the program announced by the new government headed by Dr. Hans Luther, as chancellor to the Reichstag tonight.

Germany, on the other hand, says the pronouncement, expects an equal measure of reciprocal treatment on the part of all the signatories to the London agreement.

The non-evacuation of Cologne area was declared by the chancellor to be in violation of the letter and spirit of the London agreement, and the new government, therefore, was in full accord with the protest lodged by its predecessor.

The Luther government proposes negotiations at the earliest date possible for the purpose of reaching a settlement of this issue, which the chancellor declared was indispensable to international political and economic peace and to the maintenance of amicable foreign relations.

In the opening sessions of his inaugural address, Dr. Luther declared any attempts to alter the republican constitution by force or other illegal methods, would be resisted and treated as high treason.

Of course the criminal element should be in jail, but think what it would cost us to build the jail.

SITTINGS THIS SUMMER FACE ALBERTA LEGISLATORS

Edmonton, Jan. 19.—The legislature of Alberta will assemble on February 19. That date was decided on at a meeting of the executive council Monday morning, and proclamation is being made accordingly.

The opening as scheduled will be three weeks later than last year when the house met on January 28. It will not, however, run as late into the spring, in the opinion of the government ministers, for the docket this year will not have such contentious questions as liquor control and church and state.

With February 19 as the opening date of the session, the limit date for private bills petitions will be February 9. Penalties will be imposed upon bills coming in after that date.

There is so far a scarcity of private legislation in sight, but the usual crop of bills to amend the constitution is expected, and there will also be some requests for extension of time on railway building projects.

A number of the provincial statutes will be up for amendment. In most cases the changes will be comparatively slight and are not expected to draw out much debate. There is a chance, however, that a redistribution bill will be introduced, and should that be on the boards, a somewhat lively discussion in the House may safely be counted on.

MOUNTAIN VIEW LODGE INSTALLS OFFICERS

Macleod, Jan. 17th.—Mountain View lodge, No. 4, I.O.O.F., Macleod, Alberta, installation of officers took place on Jan. 15th by the installing officers: D.D.G.M., R. W. Russell; D.P.S.W., J. E. Gardner; P.G., D.D.G.T., G. L. Pollard; P.G., D.D.G.M., J. K. Ridley; P.G., D.D.I.G., W. H. McNabb.

quite apt to lose his earlier enthusiasm for a story that it becomes a story of a man who wants to show the manuscript out of the window. And finally there is the problem of marketing. Only those who have collected a mountain of rejection slips can understand the discouragement they bring.

But to write the hardest profession—or call it trade, if you will—in all the world. If you doubt it, just try your hand at writing stories."

MADE FAMOUS BY STORIES EDITORS REJECTED

Once upon a time (this isn't a fairy story, although it ends like one) there was a man who thought he was able to write humorous stories. He had never attempted it before, being a professional man with many duties to perform, but he had such faith in his ability to transcribe real life into fiction that he sat down and wrote a dozen.

He sent them to the editor of a prominent magazine. They were returned "with regrets." He sent them to another, with the same result. The author was puzzled. He knew the stories were good. Magazine after magazine rejected them. Discouraged, he was about to throw them into the waste basket when an idea occurred to him. Through modesty he had not submitted them to the largest periodical in the United States—the Saturday Evening Post. So the mails carried the manuscripts to Philadelphia. Almost by return

THE MOLLYCODDLE FAIRBANKS COSTLIEST PRODUCTION

In giving to the public his latest screen effort, "The Mollycoddle," a United Artists release, Douglas Fairbanks presents the most costly motion picture of his career, representing an expenditure of more than a half million dollars. The picture will be presented at the Empress Theatre, next Wednesday and Thursday.

The enormous cost of "The Mollycoddle" was due to the star's desire to continue the policy he inaugurated when he became an independent producer and member of the "Big Four." At that time he declared that money would be secondary and that it would be his aim with each succeeding production to eclipse all previous efforts.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRADE

On Tuesday night last the annual meeting of the Macleod and District Board of Trade was held, when an enthusiastic crowd of citizens attended. A. D. Ferguson was appointed president for the year, while A. F. Grady will continue his former good work in the position of secretary. The reports for the past year showed that the board's activity had accomplished much for the welfare of the town and district. The retiring president, Dr. Farnett, received a good hand, which showed appreciation by one and all of his administration during his term of office as president in 1924. The Macleod Board of Trade has worked itself into an institution of usefulness for the town and district and there is no doubt with its present executive the good work will continue.

J. W. McDonald, K.C. was the chief speaker of the evening, when he explained the gas situation as it increased rates. Mr. McDonald spoke of the enabling legislation which vested power in the utilities commission to break civil contracts and stated that under conditions arising therefrom there was no recourse but to accept the utilities commission's ruling which allowed the gas company to raise their rates despite their contract.

Mike Mountain Horse, of the Blood Reserve, addressed the meeting, outlining the object of the Indian convention to be held here next summer.

This ceremony was made appropriate by the officials in their capacity and impressed those taking the obligations as one of great importance to both themselves and their friends, and the lodge to which they are now becoming responsible.

mail came an acceptance and a request for more.

The rest is history. One hundred and seventy-five of the stories have appeared in the Post since then. For years the famous partners, portrayed by Alexander Carr and Barney Bernard, have appeared on the stage, lighting millions. And in book form the stories have been responsible for editions running into hundreds of thousands.

This modest author was Montague Glass, and he has assisted in preparing the screen version of "Potash and Perlmutter," a National picture produced by Samuel Goldwyn, which is coming to the Empress Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Clarence Badger directed it and Carr and Bernard play their original roles in it, with Vera Gordon as co-star.

NOTED AUTHORITY FROM U. S. TO ADVISE ALTA. GOVERNMENT

Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 19.—On the return of Hon. V. W. Smith from Ottawa last week it was understood that the government again gave considerable attention to the affairs of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation District, the bonds for which to the amount of five and a half million dollars were guaranteed by the 1921 session of the legislature, and it is learned that this matter was again discussed on Saturday on the return of Premier Greenfield from Ottawa.

It is now known that the government is arranging to get an opinion from one of the highest authorities on the whole subject of agriculture and irrigation before finally deciding on certain important details of policy.

Dr. John A. Widstoe is coming from Washington to advise with the government. Largely owing to the depressed stages which agriculture everywhere has gone through during the few years just past, many of the United States irrigation projects have been in serious difficulties and President Coolidge recently entrusted the duty of finding the facts with regard to the whole situation to a mission of which Dr. Widstoe was vice-chairman, and he is now in Washington advising with the administration on the legislation which will be the outcome of the report. Hon. Mr. Smith regards it as highly fortunate that the province is able to avail itself of his services.

An unfortunate impression seems to have got abroad among some of the resident farmers and even more of the mortgage holders that the government was contemplating offering to take over uncultivated lands by actual purchase. This is, of course, impossible and all that the government can be expected to do is to bring seller and purchaser together on an equitable basis.

It is understood that every effort must be made to keep the present settlers on the land and careful consideration is being given to the proposal that rates and assessments should be levied separately against the home place of the resident farmer, providing he is willing to list his surplus land with the government for sale on reasonable terms.

Upon this matter, however, it is understood that the government will wait Dr. Widstoe's studied opinion before coming to a final decision as to what will be placed before the legislature for consideration.

The trustees of the district had been contemplating coming to Edmonton to interview the government with regard to the difficulties in which the district finds itself, but they will likely now defer their visit until Dr. Widstoe has had an opportunity to advise with them.

Not for many years has Macleod had such a snappy high class hockey team as they have at the present time. It's a team of young players when all Macleod hockey fans should be proud of, as the class of players they are playing is the real article. On Tuesday night they again showed their prowess with stick and puck by playing a 3-3 game with the redoubtable Pincher Creek aggregation. It was a clean hockey game, and fast considering the condition of the ice, and both the visitors and the home lads gave a fine exhibition of hockey and how it should and can be played. The game was snappy from start to finish and the fans from all corners were more than satisfied. Captain Jim Debe on several occasions boarded the Macleod goal, but the home lads with his impetuous dashes proved himself as always a real goal defender. Henry Marquis and Alexander for the visitors put up a strong wall defense, while Slim McLean in goal saved the visiting team on several occasions from disaster by many splendid stops. Young Townsend, played fine interference for the home lads throughout, while Dean, Dillingham, Dowson, S. McDonald and Hamilton all played up to their usual excellent good form. Congratulations are due both to Pincher Creek and the local lads, and the Pincherites can always be assured of a good game at Macleod whenever they play here. Frank Butler handled the ball, and only on one occasion did he have to resort to his right of fencing a player. The ice was slushy on the north side of the rink which made the playing slow whenever the puck travelled over in that direction. The attendance both at the game and the dance was good.

Macleod 3—Vets 0

On Friday last the famous Vets hockey team of Lethbridge were taken into camp by the local lads to the tune of 5 to 0. The visitors on this occasion were completely outplayed and outskated, although White, the Lethbridge goalie, put up a strong game saving his visitors from absolute demoralization.

How and it is to raise and educate a boy who can't even shift gears without a rattle.

WHEN OLD AGE BEGINS

Any man reaches the prime of life at 27 years. But even then his hearing is on the downgrade, as that sense is more acute at 7 or 8 years. Such is the belief of Professor Karl Pearson, distinguished scientist.

A few years ago Dr. Eugene Lyman Fiske expressed his opinion that our bodies begin wearing out at the age of 12.

So authorities disagree.

But the average man undoubtedly reaches the pinnacle of his physical powers before he is 30. Thereafter he slowly deteriorates. His health may be good. But the endurance of youth is on the wane.

Old age really begins in the cradle.
That is, our care and environment in infancy determine, to considerable extent, the number of years of strength and health that will be available to us before we begin to go downhill physically.

Yet, despite all we can do, the summer of life is brief. In his early thirties a man begins to realize instinctively that he cannot stand ex-posure and strain as he could in his teens and twenties.

Of men between ages 21 and 31 who were called up for service, 38 in every 100 were rejected on account of physical defects. Old age—deterioration, which is the forerunner of physical dissolution—has sunk its talons into them.

However, man is in the late autumn or winter of physical condition before he reaches the summertime of mental development.

It is a rare man whose brain has any pronounced degree of wisdom and good judgment before he is 35 or 40, at the earliest.

In this way nature compensates us.
As our physical powers weaken, our intellectual powers strengthen. But only up to a certain point. Ultimately comes senility, when mental faculties lose their powers and brilliance.

Light-heartedly man squanders the best part of life. Old age begins to overtake him usually before he really "gets down to business." Small wonder, so few reach the top of the hill of success. For youth, while it may work hard, rarely exerts itself to the limits of its powers.

The years that are wasted are the most important of all.

CIVILIZATION'S CORNERSTONE

"Co-operation." President Coolidge told the National Council of Farmers' Co-operative Marketing Associations in Washington last week, "is the cornerstone of civilization."

And that statement applies to cooperation whether it be in agricultural products, mineral products or international concord.

Co-operative marketing has disappointed many in the past year or so because it has not accomplished miracles. The point is that co-operation is not a medicine but a fundamental principle. Co-operative marketing cannot accomplish the impossible. But unless it is introduced as the basis of the whole agricultural organization, agriculture will always remain, economically, at the tail end of the country's industries.

But if co-operative marketing has not accomplished miracles in Canada, it has offered the only businesslike solution of the farmer's marketing problems that has yet appeared.

Alberta wheat, pooled in 1923 handed about 35,000,000 bushels, and returned to the growers over $37,000-000, with an operating cost of one-half cent per bushel.

And that is about as near a miracle as Alberta farmers have ever been.

Co-operation has become the keynote of big business, under which big business has prospered as never before.

Until agriculture has the same organization advantages as big business, agriculture will continue to slump.

SCIENCE AND DIVORCE

"If you want to end divorce," Professor E. A. Kirkpatrick tells the American Association of Science, in Washington, "let scientists frame the marriage laws."

There is nothing wrong with the marriage laws. It is the way they are applied that causes the trouble.
Any two healthy normal people, reasonably fond of each other, can live and flourish under the institution of marriage as it exists today. But the trouble starts when the institution of marriage is applied to the subnormal and the unfit.

You can no more expect two people with the mental development of seven-year-old children to live up to the institution of marriage than you should expect an orange-oung to live up to the Athanasian Creed.

Let the marriage law continue as it is. But let science determine, not what marriage is to be, but who are to marry.

Let science determine, not under what terms children are brought into the world, but who are to bring them into the world.

"RED CROSS JUNIOR"

One of the most delightful of the many interesting 1925 publications for young people is the brightly colored well illustrated "Red Cross Junior" the monthly official organ of the Junior Red Cross. This Magazine is growing in popularity by leaps and bounds, and is frequently used in the schools as collateral reading by teachers in the Higher grades.

The January number contains many interesting articles and short stories.
There is the story of "The Demon Dance on Chaska-Water" by Ernest Thompson Seton. A Lecture by Sir Food from "The Land of Health".
For those with dramatic instincts there are some excellent suggestions for play-writing with an offer of ten and five dollars for prize plays. From The Western School Journal is taken the story of Grace Darling, and from the British Red Cross Journal is an account of "Peter Pan abroad." Then there is poetry of a seasonal nature on Skating and Snow. There is one picture in the Magazine of special and peculiar pride to Alberta and the many Juniors there. It is a photograph of a bright little girl called Violet, who entered the Junior Red Cross Hospital in Calgary, with badly twisted limbs. After much care and attention in hospital, where the little one grew strong and happy, as well as straight, Violet has returned home with the bright cheerful look of health that you can see is a result of her hospital treatment. Parents and those desirous of giving a birthday gift to some boy or girl cannot do better than decide to subscribe to this attractive and wholesome Monthly.
The cost is nominal and simply covers the expenses of publication. To those desirous of making the magazine a New Year or birthday gift the Red Cross will enclose an artistic card of good wishes bearing the name and

ROD AND GUN FOR FEBRUARY

Brifful of interesting reading is the February issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, which every Sportsman is sure to enjoy. The Snow Barrier by Raymond Thompson is an exciting narrative of adventure in the frozen north country. Other interesting stories and articles, including E. R.
Kerr's The Migratory Birds Treaty and Cause of Decrease in Numbers of Wild Fowl, will also attract the reader's attention. The regular contributors of stories, F. V. Williams, J.
W. Winslow, Bonnycastle Dale and Martin Hunter, have all lived up to the reputations they have won for themselves in their different lines of sport. And the departmental editors have their departments up to their usual standard of excellence. Published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited,

GARDEN WEALTH

Wake, O north and south winds,
Come and blow about,
Blow upon my garden
That the spices may flow out.

Many have not time to pause
In my garden spot.
Gracious summer breezes, blow,
When the noon is hot;

Take to every traveler
On the dusty road
Scent of thyme and lavender,
It will ease his load.

Blow the choicest odors
You have ever blown—
Out beyond my garden wall Many walk along—

Honeysuckle, pink and rose Breath for such as they Grown in gardens such as mine To ease the common way.

Garden wall and boundary Cannot hold this wealth.
It was sown by Beauty's hand For everybody's health.

Wake, O north and south winds,
Come and blow about,
Blow upon my garden
That the spices may flow out.

—Fanny de Groot Hastings.

UNFELLED

There in his evergreen dress he stood A pointed fir in the midst of the wood!
His branches were sweet with the balsam smell.

His needles were green where the white snow fell.
And always contented and happy was he—
The very best kind of a Christmas tree.

—Henry Van Dyke.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

(Conducted by Miss Alice L. Webb, State College of Washington.)

Southern Peas

Since it is exactly 100 years, on Wednesday, Jan. 21, since "Stonewall" Jackson, the military genius of the South, was born, it would be fitting on that day to serve one or two truly southern dishes.

To make "corn pone," scald a pint of milk, and add gradually a cup of indian meal, a teaspoon of salt, and 3 tablespoons of butter. Cool it slightly and add 2 wellbeaten eggs and a teaspoon of baking powder.
Turn it into a buttered earthen dish and bake in a moderate oven 35 minutes. To serve, cut in pie-shaped wedges.

Southern Spoon Corn Bread

Another "down south" recipe is for Southern Spoon Corn Bread, made by adding gradually to 2-1/4 cups of boiling water, 2 cups of white cornmeal.
Let it stand till cool, then add 1-1/2 tablespoons of melted butter, 1-1/2 teaspoons of salt, the slightly beaten yolks of two eggs, and a teaspoon of baking soda mixed into 1-1/4 cups of buttermilk. Beat the whole mixture 2 minutes, add the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, turn into the buttered pudding dish, and bake in a hot oven 45 minutes.

Creole Soup

Another southern dish is Creole Soup (presumably originated in Louisiana, where the Creoles are noted for delicious things to eat.)

Cook 3 tablespoons of chopped green peppers and 2 of chopped onion in 1/4 cup of butter 5 minutes. Add 1-3 cup of flour, 1 quart brown soup stock and 1 pint of tomatoes, and simmer 15 mins. Strain and season highly with pepper, salt and cayenne.
Just before serving it, add 2 tablespoons of grated horseradish, a teaspoon of vinegar, and 1/4 cup of macaroni which has previously been cooked and cut into rings. If bottled horseradish is used the vinegar may be omitted.

Virginia Corn Cake

If General Robert E. Lee of Virginia had lived till now he would have been 118 years old on Jan. 19. Suppose we serve, in his honor, a Virginia Corn Cake. Mix and sift together a cup of corn meal, 1/2 cup white flour, 2 teaspoons of baking powder, and 1/4 teaspoon of salt. Beat up an egg and add 1/4 cup sugar. Combine these mixtures, and add 1/2 cup milk and 2 tablespoons of melted butter. Turn it into a buttered pan and bake in a hot oven 20 minutes.

Virginia Waffles

Perhaps you would like some Virginia waffles for breakfast. Cook 1/2 cup of white corn meal in 1-1/2 cups boiling water 20 minutes. Add 1-1/2 cups of milk. Mix and sift together 3 cups flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1-1/2 teaspoons of baking powder and 1-1/2 teaspoons of salt. Add them also.
Beat well yolks of 2 eggs, and add them, with 2 tablespoons of melted butter, and the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs added last. Bake as any other waffles, and serve with maple syrup.

If the waffle iron is not an electric one, it should fit closely over the stove hole; heated well on one side and then turned over and heated on the other and greased thoroughly before filling with the batter. In filling, put a tablespoonful of the batter in each compartment near the middle of the iron, cover it and the mixture will spread to just fill the iron. If it has been sufficiently heated beforehand, it should be turned almost as soon as filled and covered. In using a new iron special care must be taken in greasing it or the waffles will stick.

Richmond Corn Cakes

To make Richmond Corn Cakes, add 1/4 cup milk to 1/4 cup canned corn, 1/4 tablespoon of sugar and 2 well beaten eggs. Mix and sift 1/2 cup flour, 1 tablespoon of baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt and combine with the other mixture. Drop tablespoonfuls into buttered muffin rings set into a buttered dripping pan, and bake in a moderate oven. These, by the way, are particularly delicious served with roast beef.

"Stonewall" Jackson

It is good to remember that General Jackson always carried with him his Bible, and Napoleon's "Maxims of War"; to the latter being indebted for his military reputation, to the former for his greatness as a man. He took literally the injunction to "Pray without ceasing", and his lips were often seen moving in prayer while he was on the battle field.

He was of Scotch-Irish descent, a penniless orphan child, who earned his own way through a country school, and walked all the way to the national capital to ask for appointment to West Point.

TESTING TIME FOR POOL SYSTEMS

Calgary, Jan. 20.—(By Canadian Press).—Organized co-operation both politically and economically, as the basic factor to the continued progress of the farmers' movement in Western Canada, was the keynote sounded in the annual presidential address of H. W. Wood, at the opening session of the United Farmers of Alberta convention, here today.

In reviewing the activities of the organization, Mr. Wood laid particular stress on the need for a vigorous systematic policy in dealing with the marketing problems of the farmers, while he challenged industrial interests and urban populations to give agriculture more practical co-operation, which he claimed would redound to the general welfare of the Dominion.

"The best interest on the provinces as a whole can not be best served without team work between the rural and urban forces," Mr. Wood declared. "There is more or less of an inclination among our own people to broaden out, to take in and wet-nurse the urban citizenship in their political affairs. This would be turning back to confusion and impracticable. The urban citizenship is not an infant," he added, "but it is an indifferent adult member of the family that needs awakening to its responsibilities. The only question is whether it is asleep or dead. If it is dead, we must await a resurrection, which I am persuaded will eventually come, but if asleep, its awakened brother, agricultural citizenship, must endeavour to arouse and encourage it to action."

Testing Time for Pool System

"Relative to marketing," Mr. Wood declared, "the testing time of the pool system of selling agricultural products had arrived. 'What we have done so far seems good; the principles appear sound in its success, but the system is not established. On the contrary,' Mr. Wood continued, 'we have just started and have yet a long road in front of us to final success.
In the process of development, every weak point will become manifest, and a break-down at one point, might cause a collapse of the entire enterprise.'

PRINCE RUPERT FISHING FLEET

PRINCE RUPERT, the terminus of the Canadian National Railway in Northern British Columbia, has come to the fore of recent years as one of the premier fish-producing areas of the Dominion of Canada. Prince Rupert halibut is known all over the American continent, and the industry has reached large proportions because of the distribution service placed at the disposal of the fishermen at that port by the Canadian National Railway.

The one essential in the fishing industry is the speedy marketing of the fish after they are caught. By means of a rapid express service over the Canadian National, halibut and other fish from Prince Rupert are laid down in Winnipeg, Montreal, Toronto and other Canadian and America cities very quickly after they are landed from the fishing boats in Prince Rupert harbor.

Halibut fishery is the chief sea industry of Prince Rupert, and during 1922, 25,275,300 lbs. of halibut were landed at that port. In addition, 33,225,300 lbs. of salmon were caught and large quantities of herring, cod, flat fish and crabs. The cod and herring fisheries, which have scarcely been touched as yet, hold a great future.

The photograph shows a few of the hundreds of boats engaged in the halibut fishery out of the port of Prince Rupert.

Correspondence Course Successful
More than 300 students from grades 1 to 8 at many outlying points of the province are now enrolled in the special correspondence course in public school studies conducted by the provincial department of education for those children who live in the remote places of the province where no schools are conducted or where the distances are too great to get to school. There are 36 pupils enrolled in grade 8 and 75 in grade 1, the reminder being distributed through other grades.

Provincial School Attendance

There is a slight reduction in school attendance figures of the province for the year 1924 from the figures of the previous year. The total attendance in 1923 was approximately 148,000 and the attendance for 1924 was approximately 147,500. There was an increase of 24 new school districts during the year bringing the total up to 3342, with two of these disorganized.

To Test Wainwright Oil

According to a statement made by the British Petroleum, Ltd., of Edmonton, that company has shipped a car of oil from its well at Wainwright, to the Canadian National railway for purposes of testing as a fuel oil for railway locomotives.

Rich Oil Well Near Calgary

Official statements from the Imperial Oil Company on the new well recently brought in south of Calgary near Okotoks shows that the well has proved to be one of the richest on the continent, producing some 300 barrels of high grade gasoline per day. The well came in at 3740 feet, and the oil produced tests as high as 70 gravity.
The well is strictly speaking a gas well, producing the gasoline by condensation.

Big Growth in Tourist Traffic

Reports of the big auto camp at Calgary for the past season show that in 1924 a total of 2105 cars and 7433 people camped on the grounds, compared with 1433 cars and 4945 people the previous year.

Government Plans Fur Marketing Service

The provincial department of agriculture plans to put into operation for the handling of next season's fur catch, a fur marketing service for those trappers who wish to avail themselves of the service. The service is designed to meet the wishes of small operators, for some medium of marketing their furs, and no effort will be made to set up an extensive business.

IS A HUNGARIAN RESTORATION IMMINENT?

Legally, of course, Hungary has remained a kingdom, so that strictly speaking a restoration is not necessary, the throne being only temporarily unoccupied. Except for the short-lived Bela Kun Communist revolution, the political power in the country has remained in the hands of the big landowners, nearly all of whom may be said to be monarchists, so that a coronation of the legitimate heir, the young Prince Otto of Hapsburg, now living in exile on the coast of Spain with his mother, ex-Empress Zita, would not require any deep domestic changes. The temporary Regent, Admiral Horthy, is, moreover, pictured as retiring more and more from public functions, and his personal power is described as waning.

At the same time the Hapsburg partisans are becoming increasingly active. Count Julius Andrássy stated last month in a public address that about the middle of January a Legiti-mist Party would be formed as a distinct political body and that it would seek contacts and co-operation with all other groups, presumably with a view to a restoration of the Hapsburg Monarchy. In November the birthday of the young Prince was celebrated with a big fête in the Budapest Cathedral, and an open meeting was held, at which leaflets were distributed, calling on the attendants to "do homage to your King, His Majesty, Otto, Second King of Hungary." While Count Bethlen, the Premier, is not exactly a Legitimist leader, he has taken no definite stand against the royal cause, and if Admiral Horthy should retire, he may become the acting Regent during the minority of the Prince.

The real obstacles to a return of the royal family are external, now as before; but since 1921, when Emperor Charles and Empress Zita left their family in Switzerland to return to Hungary in an aeroplane, certain changes in the international situation have taken place. It was the Little Entente powers, particularly Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, which then interposed their veto and mobilized to make it good. Emperor Charles thought he had the consent of France, but must have been mistaken.

Now the Little Entente is less solid than it was, though the cause of the disintegration is not Hungary, but the different attitudes taken by its members toward Russia. Czechoslovakia plans to recognize the revolu-tionist Government, exactly for the same reasons that England and France have done so. Being in part a manufacturing country, it hopes to export goods to Russia and buy raw materials in return. Being Slavs, the Czechs also hope to be a connecting link between Russia and the rest of Europe. On account of Bessarabia, the Rumanians fear the Russians and cling closer and closer to the Poles. The Serbs are also Slavs, but for domestic reasons they are planning an anti-Bolshevik drive, aimed first of all against the dissident Croats. Being chiefly agriculturists, they do not need Russian trade, and can afford to wait. The Czechs are, therefore, more isolated than they were three years ago.

In Italy the Hapsburg monarchists have many friends. Empress Zita is a Duchess of Parma, and in case of a revolution in Spain, she has been offered a refuge in her native country.
Italy, moreover, has never been partial to the Little Entente, and would make no protests against a return of the Hapsburgs in Hungary alone. In Austria the situation is different. The success of the Conservative Party in England is also claimed by the Hungarian legitimists as favorable to their cause, and Rumania no doubt would welcome another member of the Balkan anti-Bolshevik bloc. The real obstacle, therefore, is Czechoslovakia and, in the background, the continental policy of France. But if Hungary wants a king, why shouldn't it have one?

SUCCESSFUL YEAR FOR UNION BANK

Annual Statement of Canada's Western Bank Discloses Great Strength in Liquid Assets

The Union Bank of Canada, with its Head Office located in Winnipeg, is regarded as representative of Western Canada in the banking world, and the sixtieth annual report, which was presented to the shareholders at the annual general meeting held at the Head Office on Tuesday, Jan. 13th., will therefore be of particular interest to all Western Canadians. Being the sixtieth annual report to be issued, it marks the diamond jubilee of the institution.

The year 1924 has seen a continuation of the unsettled business conditions for banking and financial institutions, and the balance sheet now made public is a striking tribute to the sound policy which has brought the year's business to such a successful conclusion. All legitimate requirements of customers have been met and an efficient nation-wide banking service has been maintained.

One of the outstanding features of the report is the great strength of the Bank's Liquid Assets—those investment holdings which can be quickly and readily converted into cash should the need arise. The ratio of these gilt-edged quickly convertible securities as compared to the Bank's total liabilities to the public is over 52% as against 49.5% at the close of the previous fiscal year.

The profits earned during the year, together with the balance of profits carried over from 1923, give a total of $1,229,016 available for distribution. This has provided for the payment of the four regular quarterly dividends amounting to $640,000; for Dominion Government taxes $134,581, and for the usual contribution of $10,- 000 to the Officers' Pension Fund. Adhering to their conservative policy, the Directors have wisely apportioned the remainder of the profits to a reduction of $25,000 in the value of Bank Premises, to the setting up of a contingent account of $100,000, and to increasing the balance to be carried forward to next year.

The total assets stand at $120,575,- 115 as shown by the balance sheet.
The reserve and undivided profits are $2,069,434. In common with the experience of other banks and investment institutions the period under review has shown a small contraction in the amount of deposits. Savings accounts represent $66,987,204, and current accounts $22,287,812 of total deposits of $89,275,016.

It is to be noted that there is no item corresponding to the liability of $8,100,000 to the Dominion Government, which appeared in the previous year's statement under the head of "Advances under the Finance Act" indicating that the Bank's enviable liquid position has this year enabled it to take care of the peak load of business incident to the movement of Western Canada's crop without having to take advantage of that provision of the Finance Act which permits borrowing from the Government for this purpose.

Shareholders, depositors and the public generally, will commend the excellent guidance of the Bank's affairs, which has brought such satisfactory returns to the shareholders, and at the same time has not only maintained the already strong position of the Bank in relation to its liabilities to the public, but has improved it, and the statement also reflects much credit on Western Canada for the measure of support and confidence which has enabled the Union Bank to make such a good showing.

PLAN TO COLLECT FEES MEM-BERS OF U. F. A. THROUGH THE WHEAT POOL

Calgary, Jan. 19.—If a recommendation of the Bow River Constituency Association finds favor at the annual convention of the U. F. A., the dues of the organization will, in case of necessity, be collected through the wheat pool, or any other pool which may be organized by the farmers.

This matter was discussed at a meeting of the Bow River Constituency Association held on Monday afternoon, in Nolan's Hall, and although it was declared carried by the chairman, it was not by any means unanimous.

Col. W. Robinson, of Munson, strongly advocated such a plan. He referred to the difficulty that was experienced in collecting the U. F. A. dues. He emphasized the fact that such an arrangement would not be compulsory but entirely optional. He urged that it would prevent the shrinkage that was taking place in the membership.

One of the delegates stated that he believed that such a suggestion was made to the wheat pool last year but that the board of directors declined to act in the matter.

The resolution was carried by a small majority.

There was no doubt of the popularity of the music as some of the selections were encored five and six times.

ON THE BEACH AT MANITOU

LONG before the paleface came to the broad and rolling prairies, the Red man knew and appreciated the curative properties of Little Lake Manitou, which is located near Watrous, Saskatchewan, on the main line of the Canadian National Railway. And the first white settlers who came, in advance of the railways, to settle on their homesteads in and around Watrous, soon learned of this lake with its highly mineralized waters, so that Little Lake Manitou had its reputation made when the first settlers reached the country. Today thousands of residents of prairie cities and Little Lake Manitou an ideal watering place, and excursions are run from time to time over the Canadian National Railway from Saskatoon and other cities to provide citizens with a means of reaching this delightful spot. The waters of Little Lake Manitou are so highly mineralized that the swimmer finds no difficulty in floating on their surface and at the same time their mineral qualities are health-giving in their action. With a good sandy beach for the kiddies to play on, and water chutes and other enjoyment features erected for their entertainment, Little Lake Manitou has become the ideal picnic spot for the dwellers in the central region of Saskatchewan.

ABRAM'S MACHINE FOR REMEDYING ILLS GETS PAT ON BACK

London, Jan. 17.—Dr. Abrams' apparatus for effecting cures by means of electric waves, which became popularly known as his "magic box" and which most people here had forgotten, has suddenly come into the limelight again through a report by a committee of scientific investigators which, if correctly reported by today's Daily Express, shows they are convinced that there is "something new and wonderful in connection with the box which, although not yet understood, makes further investigation desirable."

"They are reported by the paper as saying that the research holds great potentialities" and is worthy of active financial support. The members of one committee include Sir Thomas Horder, the Prince of Wales' physician, who is known as a cancer expert, and Dr. C. B. Heald, medical advisor to the director of civil aviation.

The other members were experts in physical research and radiography. Sir Thomas Horder read the committee's report last evening at a meeting of the Royal Society of Medicine. It says among other things that friends of the committee had warned them that it would be inexpedient to publish the results of their investigation, but after consideration, they had decided to disregard this warning "because nothing but good can come from publication and work conducted in a spirit of scientific sincerity, and of which full details are given."

They make it clear, however, that their report is in no wise a claim that the box has curative power. The press says those listening to the report were inclined to believe that the discovery may eventually prove to be nothing less than a new form of energy.

The late Dr. Abrams of San Francisco, who some years ago announced that electricity was the basis of life and the foundation of health, invented an instrument called the reflexophone, by the use of which, he maintained, he could detect cancer, tuberculosis and other disease. Diagnosis of a drop of blood, he said, would reveal not only the presence of the disease, but also the age of the subject, his race, and the probable length of his life. It was his theory that after disease had been detected by his method, a cure could be effected by means of another instrument called the oscillolust, which used electric waves to offset other waves within the body.

Dr. Abrams had many followers and his theory won the support of some prominent men, although it was denounced by the American Medical Association. A special committee acting for the Scientific American after a year of enquiry, made public a report last August in which the Abrams electronic radiations theory was pronounced unfounded.
